Forecast For East Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Thursday 28 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Rain overnight. Some brightness Friday, cloudier and eventually colder later.

This Evening and Tonight:
Rain soon spreading northeast, with some heavier bursts likely. This should largely die away for a time later in the night, leaving clearer skies and lighter winds, to perhaps give a chance of a slight frost in prone rural spots. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Friday:
Probably brightest in the morning, with a little showery rain in places, but the best chance of some brighter spells. Increasingly damp in the afternoon, ahead of a colder night. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Successive bouts of rain, sleet and potentially significant snow spreading erratically northwards on both days of the weekend, with uncertainty at present in their northern limit. Monday colder but fine.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.